It embraces the fields of business of development, investment funds and asset management all under a single roof.

Partner for Real Estate Projects

The companies and holdings involved in the field of business of development create innovative solutions for differentiated tasks on hand and put these successfully into practice. The aim is the development and realization of complex measures for the commercial and residential building sector. We accompany real estate projects at all phases of planning and construction. This is followed by the structuring and sale of these building measures. This makes us interesting for everyone seeking a competent partner for real estate projects, or for those who wish to offer property with development potential. Joint ventures or holdings in local real estate experts excellently networked in the area support further growth and enable the integration of regional know-how.

A Variety of Investment Opportunities

In the field of investment funds we initiate, place and manage successful investment with interesting participation opportunities for private and institutional investors. Public funds are placed via selected, long-term - in some cases exclusive - sales partners in the market. These are first and foremost reputed German private and major banks. Alternatively, our participation opportunities can also be conceived and tailored as private placements. Investment property offered in the context of our closed investment funds include real estate, aircraft, ships and film productions. Roof funds with mixed tangible assets, which also include foreign real estate and private equity, supplement the "offers" portfolio.

Our company, which supports and manages commercial real estate and entire apartment buildings, represents the field of asset management. As an all-embracing property manager, branch offices located throughout Germany enable contact to experienced teams in the local vicinity of the properties. A complete offer of commercial, infrastructural and technical real estate management is our solution for satisfied customers.
